School Board Has Arnot's Stand On Any Tax Increase

Carmel Unified School District trustees decided, last night, there is no need for the formation of a citizens committee to review the financial condition of the district and to make recommendations on economies which must be effected as a result of the voters rejecting a proposed 70-cent override tax in March. Such a committee would merely repeat the work of the group which recommended the override was the consensus of trustees' remarks.

The proposal for a new committee resulted from an offer of the Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association, which successfully fought the override, to assist the district by undertaking a financial study and to make recommendations on economies.

Last night, Harold A. Arnot, president of the taxpayers group, told the board of education, "Let us investigate and make a report. You can do what you like with it. We are not particularly anxious to do this but we are willing to endeavor: willing to have anyone work with us, but I rather think we would want to control the committee."

He indicated that he did not think much would be accomplished by members of his organization being "part of a great general committee" representing, as the board envisioned, varied interests of the community. Two members of the taxpayers association, working with a liaison board member and the district's administrative staff, was the committee he advised.

Mr. Arnot also declared, "The objectives of the taxpayers association at this time are to absolutely stop any increase in taxes." The formation of a study committee would be "hopeless" in regard to obtaining "more lenient opposition to an override," he emphasized.

"Any thought of our taking a different position to another over-

Citizens Form Foundation To Benefit Schools

Last night six citizens proposed the establishment of a non-profit educational foundation to benefit the Carmel Unified School District to members of the board of education who unanimously approved this proposal from Mrs. Richard Bell, Peter Dyer, Dr. Robert Auner, Harold Arnot, Dr. Joseph Ward and Mrs. Annette Z. Thorn. However, the board informed them that the legality of accepting money from the proposed foundation must be approved by County Counsel William Stoffers.

Stephen Grant Is Carmel's Mayor

By a margin of one vote, Stephen A. Grant was elected Mayor of Carmel on Tuesday night. The choosing of a mayor by city councilmen took place immediately after City Clerk Hugh Bayless swore into office former Mayor Herbert Blanks and William Sefton, the successful council candidates in the April 12 election. Mr. Blanks nominated Mr. Grant to succeed him in the city's highest office. Mr. Sefton proposed the name of Councilman Gunnar Norberg for the office of mayor. By a secret ballot, Mayor Grant was elected.

Before disbanding the old council, Mr. Blanks presented to the city the baston de mando, an official rod of office, which had been presented to him during his term as Mayor of Carmel by the Mayor of the City of Palma in Spain.

Mr. Blanks expressed the appreciation of the former council and the citizenry for the "eight years of devoted service" given to the city by James C. Buffington, who retired as a councilman Tuesday night. He did not seek reelection last month.

Appreciation of Mr. Buffington's service was also expressed by Councilmen Eben Whittlesey and Stephen Grant.

"I have enjoyed working with each member of the council," Mr. Buffington stated before relinquishing his seat to William Sefton.

Mayor Grant's first official act was to call for the nomination of a mayor pro tempore (vice mayor). Mr. Whittlesey won this position by a unanimous vote.

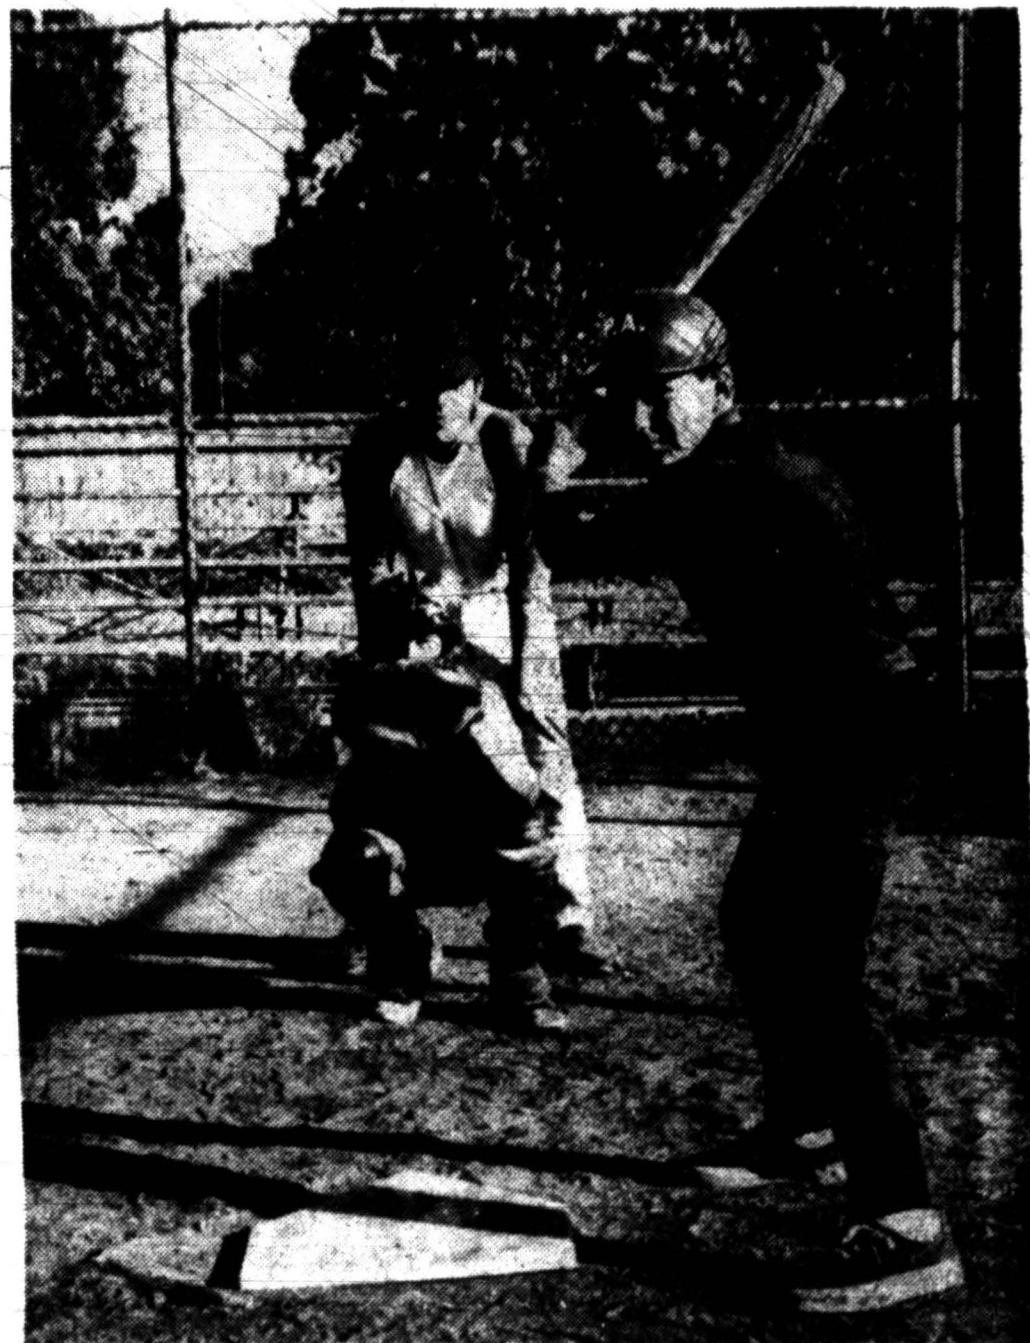

Commissioners appointed for the next two years by Mayor Grant are Mr. Blanks, streets and public works; Mr. Sefton, police; Mr. Whittlesey, fire; Mr. Norberg, health and welfare.

Committee appointments announced by the new mayor were

County Planners To Consider Joan Baez School Violations

The Monterey County Planning Commission will consider various items concerning areas down the coast, around Carmel, in Carmel Valley and Carmel Highlands at their meeting starting at 9 a.m. on Wednesday morning in the chambers of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors in the county courthouse in Salinas.

Harold Treacy's application for zoning to permit a trout farm and campground in the canyon of Limekiln Creek will be heard at 10:30 o'clock and a use permit for this development considered immediately afterwards.

Zoning to allow hotel development by Green Meadows Inc. at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club will come before the commission at 5:40 p.m.

At 4 p.m., the commission will consider the Institute for Non-Violence in Carmel Valley established by folk singer Joan Baez. The commission's staff received complaints that conditions of the use permit granted to the institute have not been complied with. Checks by the staff have disclosed that the institute is in violation of the permit by holding classes outside and on weekends. Considered Wednesday afternoon will be revocation of the permit for the institute to operate as a school.

Other local matters before the commission will be use permits for a panhandle lot requested by Anne Crockett Mohun in Carmel Valley; a pumping station in Carmel Valley for the California Water and Telephone Co.; a commercial hog ranch renewal for Russell Wolter in Carmel Valley; a Montessori nursery school at the Sisters of Notre Dame rest home beside the Carmelite Monastery on Highway One, requested by Nadya Giusi. The latter will be considered at 11:25 a.m., the others in the afternoon session of the commission starting at 1:30 p.m.

Tentative subdivisions which will be considered in the morning are the W.J.W. subdivision in Carmel Highlands (9:40 a.m.) and the Pilot Subdivision in Carmel Valley (9:55 a.m.). The Highlands matter has to do with lots sold some years ago, which have no access to a county road and therefore do not meet legal county requirements for development. The Pilot acreage is in the Schulte Road vicinity.

Design approval will be considered by the county planning commissioners of dwellings: Carmel Highlands for Miss E. Patton;

Carmel area, Robert Stephenson; Carmel Valley, George Hoffman; Carmel Meadows, Albert Seeno and Thomas Duncan; Dolan Creek, Mary Hudson.

Remodelling designs will be submitted by Kipp Stewart, Carmel Highlands; Federal Savings and Niles Pease, both Carmel Valley commercial developments.

COLOR SLIDES AT TOWN HOUSE

Colored slides of the extensive Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum at Tucson will be shown by Mrs. Donna Preble of Carmel at the Carmel Foundation Town House on Wednesday at 1:30 and 3 p.m.

Everyone is welcome to the program and to tea, which will be served at 4 p.m.

ALLIANCE PLANS ACTIVITIES

L'Alliance Francaise of the Monterey Peninsula is planning a colorful bazaar at Cypress Club on May 7. Proceeds will go toward the scholarship given each year to a Peninsula student majoring in French.

Art News . . .

The exhibit of art by students of Carmel High School which opened the Young People's Art Center at Sunset Center, and which currently is being shown in Greenwood, Mississippi, in an exchange program, is reported to be a great success.

Mrs. Peter Wacht, director of the art school in Greenwood writes, "Everybody has gone to see it—teachers, school superintendent, principals, students, parents."

An exhibit from Greenwood and Itta Bena, Mississippi, was shown for four weeks as the second show in the Young People's Art Center, sponsored by the Carmel Arts Commission, and was later hung in Brey Hall at Carmel High School. Viewers found the traditional style, subject matter, and particularly the handling of watercolor by students from second grade through seventh grade most interesting. Such exchanges, it is hoped, will help create interest and raise standards in student art, and make it possible for young people to measure themselves against others of their own age level rather than against adult levels of excellence.

Presently being exhibited at the Young People's Art Center is an exhibit by the Lyceum of the Monterey Peninsula, depicting work of gifted students from Monterey, Pacific Grove and Seaside. Next exhibit scheduled is to be art by kindergarten students of Carmel.

On exhibit at the Zantman Art Galleries through May 18 is a one-man show of strong and vivid impressionistic paintings by Harriet Thorpe, San Francisco Bay area artist. Also to be seen is a group show including the work of Robert Clark, Ned Pankin, Rosemary Miner, Bennett Bradbury, Charles Levier, Phillippe Marchand and other artists. The galleries are on Sixth Street between Dolores and San Carlos. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week.

Prospective bidders will be able to view works of art donated for the Beacon House Art Auction in the Terrace Room of the Mark Thomas Inn from April 27 through the morning of May 1. The auction will be held on May 1 in the afternoon at 2 p.m. following a brunch served at noon. The annual benefit is the major source of income for Beacon House, a rehabilitation facility for alcoholics situated in Pacific Grove. Reservations may be made by telephoning 624-2256 or by writing to Box 4668, Carmel. Tickets to the auction are $1. The entire program, including brunch, will cost $3.50. Persons who will be unable to attend the auction may submit sealed bids on the works of their choice at the Mark Thomas desk.

The final in a series of color-slide programs on India will be given tonight by Miss Sophie Harpe, Carmel artist and architect. Sponsored by the Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts, the program will be held in its quarters at the Sunset Center on San Carlos near Eighth at 8:00 p.m. General admission is $1.00, no charge for AFA members.

Marlinde von Ruhs (Mrs. Merle Armitage) will exhibit her work at the Carmel Foundation Town House during the month of May.

Born in Austria, the artist studied in Dusseldorf, Germany, the Rijks Akademie in Amsterdam, the Academy of Arts in Vienna and at the Art Students League in New York. She has exhibited in several European countries and is a regular exhibitor at the Galerie de Tours in San Francisco and the Crocker Art Gallery in Sacramento. Her work, which is well known to local art lovers, has won first awards in numerous religious art exhibits as well as California regional shows.

The Town House, at Lincoln and Eighth, is open to the public 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily Monday through Friday but is closed Saturday and Sunday.

Two hundred artists from 33 San Francisco Bay area communities have been issued invitations to the Ninth Annual Saratoga Rotary Club Arts and Crafts Festival on May 16. Qualified artists interested in exhibiting are invited to contact Mrs. Raisa Kocher at 867-3484.

To qualify as an exhibitor, an artist must: (1) have participated in a juried show; (2) held a one-man show in a recognized art gallery; (3) be an instructor in any accredited institution of learning; (4) secure the unanimous approval of the selection committee.

Proceeds will benefit the non-profit Montalvo Association which operates the well known cultural center in Saratoga for creative artistic activities and the Ming Quong Childrens Center of Los Gatos, a multiple service treatment home for children of all races from age six to 18 years.

Paintings by Richard Hamilton are currently being shown at the Sculpture Center, 444 Cannery Row, Monterey. The self-taught artist works exclusively in oils, choosing realism over abstract interpretation in his landscapes and seascapes.

According to Mr. Hamilton, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson and Mrs. Bob Hope are among those who own one of his paintings. He was also commissioned to paint what is believed to be the largest seascape of the Monterey cypress trees in the world. The canvas, measuring seven feet high by 20 feet long, is owned by Mrs. Maxine Elves of Monterey.

Three distinguished professional painters will conduct the judging of the first annual "Pictorial Art Festival," which will feature exhibits by residents of Hacienda Carmel, an adult community in Carmel Valley.

Mason Wright, chairman of the executive committee, announces that the judges are Donald Teague, Leslie Emery and Fred Klepich. Following their selection of eight entries, a formal presentation of awards will be held at 8 p.m. tonight.

Mr. Teague, widely known for his work in water colors and oils, has exhibited in the Metropolitan Museum of Art; National Academy of Design; Royal Watercolor Society, London; Brooklyn Museum; and the Art Institute of Chicago. His many awards and medals include two grand awards and gold medals of honor, American Watercolor Society.

Mr. Emery, who studied at the Corcoran Art School, Washington, D.C., is a member of the Carmel Art Association.

Mr. Klepich has received numerous awards in state and regional shows for his work in oils, watercolors, lithographs and woodcuts. He studied at the Chicago Art Institute and Bellas Artes, San Miguel de Allende, Mexico.

The public is invited to view the paintings which will remain on exhibition for one month after the awards presentation.

SUTTER'S FORT is the dramatic focal point of an area and an era in California history—the nucleus of all Northern California settlement and the birthplace of the Gold Rush. In this latest volume in the AMERICAN FORTS SERIES, Oscar Lewis traces the rise and decline of Sutter's empire and with it, the turbulent emergence of a new State. —S. F. CHRONICLE.

San Francisco-born Oscar Lewis has spent most of his life writing about the American West, a nationally recognized contributor of articles and stories, such as regularly used school texts . . . "The Children of Sanchez," "Life in a Mexican Village" and "Bonanza Inn."

SUTTER'S FORT is the third book to be published in the AMERICAN FORTS SERIES.

The exciting, colorful story of one of America's most famous landmarks, Sutter's Fort, the site where gold was discovered on January 24, 1848. Built by Captain John A. Sutter in 1841 when California was still Mexican territory, this fortified stronghold served as a stopping point for Army officers and new settlers. The Author describes the arrival of Capt. John C. Fremont and his guide, Kit Carson in 1844 and how several years later, during the Bear Flag revolt, a Mexican general was held a prisoner at the fort. Following the discovery of gold in California, squatters dispossessed Sutter and the fort was partially dismantled. At the turn of the century the State of California acquired the property and reconstructed Sutter's Fort. Here is an authentic, absorbing picture of a rich slice of early Western Americana, and the story of a famous pioneer.

CARRIAGE RIDE TO RECEPTION

Frank Larry Veninga and his bride, the former Susan Catherine White of Carmel, are shown in the picturesque horse-drawn carriage which carried them in style from Carmel Mission Basilica to La Playa Hotel following their wedding on Saturday. The delightful departure from conventional transportation was a surprise arranged for them by the bridegroom's ushers.

The couple exchanged vows before the altar of the Basilica in an early afternoon ceremony performed by the Reverend Roger J. Dieudonne.

Susan was given in marriage by her father, Kenneth C. White of Carmel. Her gown of ivory re-embroidered Pointe de Venise lace was fashioned with a scalloped neckline, fitted lace bodice and a long bouffant skirt. Its full chapel-length train was of peau de soie. A matching lace mantilla covered her fair hair and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Roger Detels of Seattle, Washington, was matron of honor. The bride's other attendants were the bridegroom's sister, Miss Virginia Veninga of Pacific Grove, Miss Zsuza Varosy of San Francisco, Miss Peggy Darr of Eugene, Oregon, and Mrs. Robert Spencer (Ann Isenberger) of Mountain View. They wore identical gowns of ice blue peau de soie with haloes of violets upon their hair, and carried bouquets of the same flowers.

Donald Veninga of Lakeport served as his brother's best man. Seating the guests were the bride's brothers, Kenneth C. White Jr. and Robert A. White, also John Petty of Berkeley, Larry Soares of Los Altos and John Doud of Carmel.

After a leisurely drive around Carmel Point, the carriage deposited the newlyweds at La Playa Hotel, where they received the congratulations of guests at a reception in the Terrace Room. Among those in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. White and the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Veninga of Elk Grove.

Out of town guests who attended the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neher, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Neher, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. Sini Stabell, all of Sacramento; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald White of Glendale, Miss Sandy Meilinger, one of Susan's college friends from Colorado, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kelly of Berkeley. Still others from Sacramento were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Patton, Mr. and Mrs. Jo-

A Wedding At Ben Lomond

A friendship which began in childhood, when their families had adjacent summer homes in the Santa Cruz Mountains, culminated April 13 in the marriage of Beryl Scott and Jon Konigshofer of Carmel at the Ben Lomond home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Arthur Scott. In keeping with the bridegroom's Hawaiian heritage, the Hawaiian Wedding Song was played during the mid-day ceremony which was performed by the Reverend Jon Bullock of the Wee Kirk of Ben Lomond.

Wendy Weissmuller, whose engagement is soon to be announced, was her mother's maid of honor and Harvey Kilpatrick of Carmel served as best man.

Guests attending the wedding and the reception which followed were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Etta Konigshofer of Ben Lomond, the bride's son, John Weissmuller and Miss Patricia Lane of Carmel, a lifelong friend of the new Mrs. Konigshofer. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Neal of Carmel.

The newlyweds are at home in Carmel after a brief wedding trip to San Francisco. In May, they will fly to London, thence to Italy where they will pick up an auto in Venice to tour the Dalmatian coast before a month's stay in a villa outside of Corfu on the Ionian island of the same name.

Carmelites Wed In Monterey

Friends of the former Mrs. Marjorie Cain and Cornelius J. K. van Peski were pleased to learn of the couple's marriage, which took place Saturday in the garden of historic Gordon House, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Palms, near Colton Hall in Monterey. Judge Richard Eldred performed the afternoon ceremony.

The wedding party included the bride's mother, Mrs. Joseph Balogh, and her daughter, Miss Marci Cain, of Carmel, also Mr. and Mrs.

seph Angello, Mr. and Mrs. James MacFee and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harris.

Following a honeymoon, the young couple are making their home in Seattle, where Larry has accepted a new position with an architectural firm.

The new Mrs. Veninga, who attended Santa Catalina School for Girls, is a graduate of Carmel High School. She studied at Monterey Peninsula College and later received a bachelor's degree in fine arts at Colorado State. Before her marriage, Susan was employed as a stewardess with Pan American Airlines.

Her husband received his B.A. in architecture from the University of California, where he also earned a Phi Beta Kappa key. He is a member of the University of California Alumni Association and, while working in Sacramento, was director of Children's Center in that city.

The Vyes Returned

George and Helene Vye, two people who seem at home wherever they choose to be, are back again in Carmel after almost two years in Europe, resignedly noting the changes in the village. Mrs. Vye was among those who worked hardest to establish Devendorf Plaza many years ago.

In England the Vyes visited George's family in Hampshire for several months before traveling to France to spend two months in Paris and three with Helene's family in Gascony. In Switzerland they were guests at Arlene Turi's chalet and report that the former Carmelite also has a studio in Portofino. They met another artist known to Carmel, Gary Shoemaker, in Cannes, where he is now living. In fact, Helene says, they kept encountering familiar faces wherever they went — the first person they saw when they arrived in Torremolinos, Spain, was Louise Kramer. They particularly enjoyed the months they spent in this colorful town near Malaga. They also enjoyed visits in Italy and Monaco and a trip to Tangiers.

Charles O'Gara of Monterey. The new Mrs. van Peski's brother, Joseph Balogh, arrived from France just two hours after the ceremony.

Unable to attend the wedding were Mr. van Peski's daughter, Niva, of Washington, D.C., and his son, Christian, of Calabasas.

Mr. and Mrs. van Peski are making their home in Casa de Cain in Carmel.

Mohlers Returning

Mrs. Charles Mohler has been hired by the Monterey Peninsula College board of trustees as a replacement for an English instructor who will be on sabbatical leave for the fall semester of the 1966-67 academic year.

A former resident of Carmel who taught at Carmel High School from 1959 to 1961, Mrs. Mohler, with her husband, is returning to the Peninsula from her most recent residence in Tiburon.

A writer, on her own and in collaboration with her husband, she covered the Brussels World's Fair for the Washington Post and San Francisco Chronicle. Her writing has been published in such magazines as Nature, Sunset, Better Homes and Gardens, Reader's Digest, Westways and Modern Motoring.

The Great No Picnic

Will Shaw's Greek picnic was a smashing success Sunday, despite the fact that it was dubbed "The Great No Picnic" after being transferred hastily from Big Creek to The Lab on Cannery Row. As some 50 guests were preparing to head down the coast, word was flashed with the speed of a jungle telegraph that it was about to pour at Big Creek. If the host's association of the Sur country with a Greek Spring was nebulous, not to say missing, no one in the convivial crowd seemed to care — particularly when a delicious feast of authentic Greek food appeared.

Several years ago, Will, Mrs. Charles (Nancy) O'Gara and J. P. Kunstle were intrigued to find they shared the same birthday, considering themselves diametrically opposed personalities. Though J. P. is no longer in the area, Nancy and Will continue their annual celebration (a Spring-in-Greece flavor if he has his say).

Frank Likes New Assignment

Frank Palmer, whose first assignment in health service as a Peace Corps volunteer took him to Panama City in January, writes home that his transfer to work with the Guaymi Indians in northern Panama is most gratifying and exciting. Interested in primitive areas, and trained for working in them, Frank finds the high mountainous area beautiful. He enjoys, too, having a horse—a necessity for the distance he must travel.

It was only from reading the Peace Corps bulletin that his mother, Mrs. John Ruster of Carmel, discovered that Frank's graduation from the University of California last year was with high honors in physiology. Her son, a 1960 graduate of Carmel High School, just hadn't thought to mention it when he was here for several weeks before reporting for training with the corps.

The Rowe Clan Gathers

The Pine Cone faithfully kept a secret last week when it mentioned that Mrs. Nettie Rowe was enjoying her new quarters in the Skyline Convalescent Hospital—it was that other members of the family knew her son, Dr. Ted P. Rowe, and his wife were arriving from the Island of Yap, where Dr. Rowe is clinical supervisor under the U.S. Department of Interior. Dr. and Mrs. Rowe, whose home here is currently rented, are guests of Dr. Rowe's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spencer. The doctor and his wife were Carmel residents in 1936. Later, he was assigned as a medical officer in the U.S. Army in the African and Italian campaigns during World War II.

According to Dr. Rowe, the Micronesian island's native inhabitants exist in very primitive conditions, still using stone money. They dress in grass skirts and loin cloths and their diet consists of local fruits, nuts and fish. Yap, which belonged to Germany prior to World War I, was turned over to Japan under a League of Nations trust. After World War II, it became a United Nations mandate under trusteeship of the United States.

The arrival of Dr. and Mrs. Rowe has signalled a joyous reunion for the family, whose other local members include James Rowe and Mrs. Arthur Plaxton. Robert Rowe of Everett, Washington, is expected to join the gathering.

A Note From The Caldwell

A note from Lieutenant Colonel John Caldwell (USA ret) and Mrs. Caldwell informs their friends that after a pleasant six months at Palma, Mallorca, they are headed back to their summer headquarters in Salzburg, Austria. At writing, they were anticipating their voyage aboard the U.S. Independence to Sardinia, Naples and Genoa, later visiting friends at Alessio, Italy, and Cap de Ail, France, before proceeding to Salzburg.

In June, the Caldwell will meet their son and daughter-in-law from Michigan in Luxembourg for a two-month camping tour through Europe. With five grandchildren along, Colonel Caldwell observes, "It should be a lot of fun for old people like us!"

Future Carmelites In Panama

At the end of this month, Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Downs, Pine Cone subscribers and Carmel visitors through the years, will leave their home in Washington, D.C., for Balboa in the Canal Zone, where Mr. Downs will be Deputy Chief of Missions for the U.S. Department of State.

Mr. Downs, who has been with the department for over 20 years, is looking forward to his eventual retirement at the couple's Carmel home. When that time comes, they expect to see more of their close friends, U.S. Ambassador to Mexico Fulton Freeman and Mrs. Freeman, also future Carmelites, as well as Mrs. Downs' sister, Mrs. Robert E. Ross.

Holiday For CHS Band

Some 40 members of the Carmel High School band enjoyed a fine holiday in the Lake Tahoe area last weekend. The young musicians, who all earned the money for their trip, got a real break when they arrived at the north end of the lake. A kindly motel owner not only gave them lower rates than the usual off-season fees, but turned the whole place over to them, including boats. The group spent a day in the snow at Squaw Valley before returning home.

Accompanying the young people were Mrs. George Chilson, Mrs. Arlow Pitcher, Bernard Laiolo, Robert Stephenson and band director John Farr.

Lieutenant Wanless Honored

First Lieutenant Loren E. Wanless, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wanless of Carmel, has been named a distinguished graduate in his class at the Air University's Squadron Officer School, Maxwell AFB, Alabama. Honored at graduation ceremonies Friday, the officer was selected in recognition of his high moral character, academic achievement, physical stamina and professional competence.

Lieutenant Wanless has been reassigned to Offutt AFB, Nebraska, where he has returned with his wife, Mary, and the couple's children, Jeanette and Jeffrey.

Symphony Guild Preview

Members of the Peninsula chapter of the Monterey County Symphony Guild will be guests of Mrs. Harry Lusignan at her home, "Wit's End," on the 17-Mile Drive in Pebble Beach on Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. for a symphony preview coffee.

John Gosling, conductor of the symphony orchestra, will preview the forthcoming concert of May 26. Soloist will be Norma Jean Hodges, who will be accompanied by Camille Olaeta.

Mrs. Carl Menneken, president of the guild, will preside at the meeting. Co-chairmen in charge of hospitality are Mrs. Arthur Barter, Mrs. Allman Cook and Mrs. Dorothy Smythe.

Woods Teacher At Conference

Mrs. Kay Goines, kindergarten teacher at Carmel Woods School, returned with enthusiastic reports of the "School Readiness and Developmental Placement" conference held at Cupertino April 12. Conducting the conference were Dr. Frances L. Ilg, director of the Gesell Institute of Child Development at New Haven, Connecticut, and Ernest Imbach, project director of the Developmental Placement Program of the Visalia City Schools.

The basic educational viewpoint of the Gesell Institute is that children should be entered in school (and consequently grouped and promoted) on the basis of their developmental and behavioral age and not on the basis of chronological age.

Mrs. Goines, already recognized for her successful innovations in teaching, participated at the request of Ed Coffin, Monterey County Superintendent of Schools and planning director for Project EDINN.

Officers' Wives' Club Event

The Officers' Wives' Club of the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School has planned a Champagne Brunch to be held May 5 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Novia Room, Hermann Hall at the school. Tickets go on sale Monday in the breezeway outside the Navy Exchange, Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Hostess group for the event are the wives of the Naval engineering department.

Alliance Official Visited

George Duca, secretary-general of l'Alliance Francaise of the United States, was guest of honor at a small dinner party Tuesday at the French Poodle. Members of the local organization later heard Mr. Duca speak on "Nouveaux Voyages Autour de Ma Chambre" at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies.

Henri Corbat, president, presided at a short business meeting during which current plans were discussed.

to attend, telephone the inn and see if you can be squeezed in. The tonight mentioned above is Thursday, April 21, of course. A no-host cocktail hour precedes the dinner. Speaker for the evening will be Francis Heisler of Carmel, who will talk on "The Freedom to Read and Obscenity and Pornography." Mr. Heisler is a nationally known attorney and his views on the subject will be well worth your time and attention.

By the time you read this, our reference room should be firmly established in the basement level of the library, established except for the reading tables and chairs which take a time to come. Meanwhile we will move down the one old table we had upstairs and hope that it will suffice until the project is completed. A quiet reference room has been a familiar dream of this librarian for several years. Coming true at last, it is even better than I had hoped it would be. Turn right at the foot of the stairs, and there you are!

THE SEA YEARS OF JOSEPH CONRAD is the title of a new book covering Conrad's life from 1883 through 1888. These were his years of adventure and during them he lived and observed the events which were to form the bases for his many novels. Jerry Allen, who wrote the book, spent many years in research and in 1958 published a full biography of Conrad which she entitled The Thunder and the Sunshine.

MOTEL PLANNING AND BUSINESS MANAGEMENT by Clare Gunn is pretty specialized, of course, and may be of interest to only a few persons. It is filled with photographs to illustrate the points it makes. It starts with costs of building or buying a motel and goes on to erecting the ones to be built and managing them once they are established.

FORMOSA BETRAYED was written by George Kerr, who lived on the island for several years. He reports on the terrible consequences for the strategic island brought on by National Chinese occupation and American neglect.

William Arthur Bishop was the son of Billy Bishop, the great air ace of World War I, who earned his reputation by downing 72 German aircraft. Billy Bishop was a Canadian, born in 1884. He was an ace during the years when a man was a real hero if he even went up in one of the rickety planes of that day. Bishop was the man of whom Eddie Rickenbacker said, "Billy Bishop was a man absolutely without fear. I think he's the only man I have ever met who was incapable of fear." William Bishop's book about his father is entitled THE COURAGE OF THE EARLY MORNING.

Ian Fleming lived part of every year in Jamaica and it was there that he wrote his successful novels. He wanted a book to be written about Jamaica but had no time to do it himself, so he asked his good friend Morris Cargill to do it. IAN FLEMING INTRODUCES JAMAICA was published after his death. The book is filled with beautiful color photographs and it will make you long for the friendly island.

Last port of call today is Southern Italy and Sicily, which is SOUTH OF ROME by Robert Coates. He and his wife spent a spring and summer there, and drove in a small car all over the place, even taking the ferry to Sicily. They had a great time and Mr. Coates has written about it in a smooth conversational style which is delightful.

The Pine Cone welcomes to Carmel William F. Timmins, who drew the congratulatory sketch above for the paper's publisher, Allman Cook, and his wife, Louise. The well known illustrator has transferred his commercial and fine arts activities from Darien, Connecticut, to a studio in Pacific Grove and, with his wife, Marjorie, has established a home in Carmel.

Bill Timmins is no stranger here—his father was Carmel artist Harry L. Timmins and his sister, Verna, is the wife of another celebrated painter, Donald Teague.

Relatives Of CTapCJ Discovered In East

The Monterey Peninsula's Commodore T. ap Catesby Jones Society (CTapCJS), after a six-month search, has located and recruited two relatives of the man who captured and uncaptured Monterey in 1842.

Colonel Catesby ap Catesby Jones, vice president, The Society of the Cincinnati, Richmond, Virginia, was the first to check in last week.

A third cousin, once removed, Colonel Jones was located by Barbara J. Burdick, vice commodore, and Simeon L. Ostermeier, ap historian, through a membership in the American Society of the French Legion of Honor. They were assisted in their efforts by Colonel Richard J. Long of the Defense Language School.

He highly commended the Monterey organization for "preserving the memory of a distinguished officer."

Great-grandnephew Catesby ap Lucian Jones was next to apply for membership, having heard from Colonel Jones about the CTapCJS.

An attorney in Bernardsville, New Jersey, ap Lucian plans to have his three children become members of the society.

These letters plus other "Jonesiana" will be on exhibit all week at the Custom House to commemorate Commodore Jones' birthday, April 24, 1790.

Society Commodore Bertram F. Rudolph Jr. strongly urges all aps to make their reservations directly with Gallatin's for the gala banquet meeting there next Sunday at 6:30 p.m. FR 3-3737 is the telephone number.

Carmel Pianist Tells About His Performance In Madrid

Pianist Gilbert Boyer of Carmel, currently playing concerts in Europe, made an unheard of request before his performance at the Instituto de Cultura in Madrid. In a letter to his wife, Louise, Mr. Boyer relates the instance.

"At the Instituto they have pages, dressed in uniforms like bell-boys in a hotel. These men and boys do errands of various types. Just before beginning the recital, the man in charge asked if I would like anything. I answered, 'Yes, a glass of water, please.' A request for water in Europe is a request for the unheard of and involves a long wait. I went on stage, played the Bach Fantasia which starts my program, stood up and bowed to the audience, and turned to sit down to start the sonata.

"However, as I turned to sit down I bumped into the page who had come to the center of the stage with the glass of water. I thanked him and said 'despues.' I could feel the amusement of the audience. He apparently had no stage fright, which is more than I can say."

Mr. Boyer further said in his letter that "after the recital a composer spoke to me, congratulating me. He knows the composer Marroquin of Guatemala very well, and plans to send my program to him. This Spanish composer studied with Casella in Rome—he gave me 60 of his compositions ranging from a sonata through preludes. I have looked them over and they are wonderful. I certainly plan to play some of them in the United States."

Before the Madrid concert, Mr. Boyer was interviewed for the Spanish national broadcasting system. His experience on the air is told below.

"Early the day of the concert I was told to go to the national broadcasting station for a radio interview. I was a little apprehensive knowing that my Spanish was tuned to a Latin American accent and vocabulary and I had not been in Spain long enough to acquire a Spanish accent. The interviewer talked so fast that my comprehension was always a half sentence behind what he was saying. Suddenly, he turned the program over to me with the question: 'What makes these two composers Uribe-Holguin and Marroquin outstanding?' I gulped and there was a slight pause as I tried to think a second or two in Spanish. He motioned me impatiently to start speaking right away. Then the sentences blurted out in fast passable Spanish and he smiled at me in a pleased manner. I had broken the barrier between thinking in English and Spanish. From that crucial moment on, everything went fine—they seemed to feel it was a good interview."

Mr. Boyer acquired his familiarity with the Spanish language during the years he was associated with the Laubach Literacy Program in Valle de Bravo, Mexico, and later in other Latin American countries. During the latter period, he met the Colombian composer, Uribe-Holguin, in Bogota and the young Guatemalan composer, Marroquin, in Quetzaltenango. He included their work in his Madrid concert, as well as compositions by Chavez of Mexico, Villa-Lobos of Brazil and two North American composers, Aaron Copland and Nicolas Slonimsky. His performance also included work by Bach, Chopin and Ravel.

besides washing and drying your dishes:

1. An automatic dishwasher holds dirty dishes awaiting washing, helping you keep your kitchen neat.
2. It kills germs by sanitizing dishes with water too hot for hands.

LITTLE LEAGUE HONORS FORMER CARMEL MAYOR

The new Little League ball diamond will be dedicated on Saturday to the memory of former Mayor John Chitwood, above, who was a booster of the Carmel Little League during its early years. He was also a supporter of the Carmel Youth Center and served on the adult board of the teenage recreation center.

John Chitwood first discovered Carmel in 1926 when he was a young U.S. Navy ensign on the battleship Mississippi which was sent to Monterey for a July 4 celebration. At a party he met Jean Taylor, the daughter of Peter Taylor, a member of Carmel's first city council. They were married two years later.

In 1946, Commander John Chitwood retired from active duty and he and Mrs. Chitwood came to live permanently in Carmel. He served on the city council for 12 years and was Mayor of Carmel from 1957 to 1960. Each of the three times he ran for office, Commander Chitwood piled up more votes than the time before and was one of the most popular councilmen ever to serve the city. His fellow councilmen gave him a surprise party when he left the council in 1962 and passed a resolution stating that he had "served the city with a spirit of dedication, dignity, tolerance, ability and, above all, with a sense of fair play."

Farr Campaign Chairmen Named

Two attorneys, Peter Ferrante of Carmel and Henry Fulton of Salinas, have been named co-chairmen of the Monterey County Citizens Committee to Re-elect Senator Fred Farr (D-Carmel).

In accepting this new responsibility, Mr. Ferrante noted, "Fred Farr has given the people of Monterey County full-time, responsible representation. During his 11 years in office I have been impressed with his vigorous efforts in the many areas of vital concern to Monterey County. I feel that it is imperative that we, who appreciate his efforts, now come forward and publicly state that we wish him to continue his work."

Del Monte Security Chief Receives Honor

Genuinely surprised was Edward R. Thornburg, chief of the Del Monte Properties security force, when some of his Monterey Peninsula College cadet-students presented him with a special badge and wallet in an informal ceremony last week.

The presentation was made on behalf of 33 cadets who have patrolled, or are currently patrolling, Del Monte Forest under Chief Thornburg's direction as well as the 44 members, student and professional, of the local chapter of Lambda Alpha Epsilon, national professional law enforcement fraternity.

The gold badge, inset in a calf-skin wallet, reads "Chief, Del Monte Property, E.R.T." An accompanying card refers to Thornburg's "faith and assistance" and is signed by Richard Snibbe, MPC police science instructor. Also in the wallet is a lifetime MPC athletic pass.

The college's police science cadet program, started last fall through the cooperation of Del Monte Properties, is the only one in Monterey County.

A preview of the film "The Lively Art of the Picture Book" will be given on Monday at 8 p.m. in Brey Hall at the Carmel High School campus. The film, lasting 57 minutes, is in color and sound. It will be of particular interest to program chairmen of adult groups working with children, literature and art.

For further information on the film, which cannot be shown for private profit, interested persons may phone Mrs. H. F. Bruggeman (624-4444).

Stock Market Notes

By Hugh Hannon

With the cost of many things they buy going up over 10% a year, investors have been buying stocks which looked like they might go up more than 10% a year. The stocks most likely to go up are not usually the ones that pay the best dividends. They are the ones whose profits are increasing the most, whose earnings per share are going up the fastest; that rather than paying out a large part of profits in dividends are retaining the largest part of profits for research and development. The factor uppermost in investors' minds has been how fast are earnings going up. If earnings are going up fast, so will the stock. Investors being cautious like to follow the leader. If a group of stocks like airlines and electronics is going up, investors would rather buy the ones that are moving than buy the ones that might move some day. So popular groups tend to stay popular and become overpriced.

Colonel and Mrs. Frank M. June believe in practicing what they teach. They feel the most direct way to acquaint students with foreign cultures and customs while learning the language is to cook native dishes.

Ever since Colonel June perfected his Spanish when serving as naval attache in Guatemala, he wished to instruct in this musical language. Now his hopes have been fulfilled. As Mrs. June teaches English, both the Junes can be found in school days at the Juniper Memorial High School in Monterey.

It is fortunate that nowadays students can taste their travels without leaving their classrooms. This is why the Junes arrange such successful Spanish and Mexican suppers for their school's Spanish Club. Providing foreign menus and decorating the rooms to complement the food create a travel guide in itself. The musical background is easily managed as Spanish flamenco records are always popular.

What young person can resist dressing like a gypsy? It's such a gay lighthearted scene, with the "muchachas" in swirling skirts and white blouses. All the "gitanos" wear brass hoop earrings and red kerchiefs tied on their heads. Nothing could be more simple or effective. As to food, Spain is noted for savory stews, rich and spicy, but not fiery. Gypsies wander from place to place. Whatever goes into their evening "cacerola" (clay cooking pot) tastes of the outdoors and a wood fire.

STUDENTS' SPANISH SUPPER

Arroz con Pollo
(Rice with Chicken)

Ensalada Verde
(Green Salad)

Flan Espanola
(Caramel Custard)

Galletas de Almendra
(Almond Cookies)

Jugo de Naranjas
(Orange Juice)

ARROZ CON POLLO

(Serves 12)

Three cans whole chicken; 1 tsp. crushed oregano; 1 cup onions, finely chopped (or half a cup if dehydrated); 1 clove garlic put through press; olive oil; 2 cups raw converted packaged rice (not minute); 1 tsp. powdered saffron; salt, pepper, paprika to taste; 12 stuffed green olives; chopped chives or parsley.

Remove chickens from cans, save juice. Remove meat from bones in good-sized pieces. Sauté fresh onions and garlic in hot oil. If dehydrated onions are used, add to broth without sautéing. Heat broth (there should be 4 cups, so add water with chicken bouillon cubes if necessary). Bring to a boil with seasonings. Add rice, reduce to simmer; add chicken. Cover and cook gently for about 25 minutes until rice is flaky and dry. Add stuffed olives and top with chives or parsley.

This is an Americanized streamlined version of the original classic Spanish "plato." The flavor is all there but the preparation is simplified. To elaborate and turn "arroz con pollo" into "paella," add canned or cooked green peas, tiny bottled artichoke hearts, shrimp, clams in their shells and sliced lobster tails (the shell fish is pre-cooked). In Spain they also add squid and eels. It is truly a generous offering!

ENSALADA VERDE

For the green salad, break crisp fresh lettuce into bite-sized pieces. Toss at the last moment with a light dressing of olive oil, lemon juice, salt and paprika. If you wish, provide crusty buttered rolls—these and the almond cookies are usually "bakery bought." Spaniards do not bake breads or pastries at home.

FLAN ESPANOLA

About the easiest way is to use the new packaged powdered custard and follow directions. In Spain "flan" is usually caramelized. Make a caramel sauce from brown sugar and put into bottom of custard cups; then pour custard over this. Spaniards prefer this dessert at room temperature. Pass the nutmeg grater, as freshly grated nutmeg has its way over the powdered kind. You could serve Monterey Jack cheese in wedges with apples. Or how about grapes, figs, dates and prunes?

JUGO DE NARANJAS

Fresh orange juice is always available in Spain since there Valencia oranges are prolific. We could use frozen orange concentrate served from pitchers. "Muy bueno tambien!"

Star Studded Cast For Circle Comedy

Marcia Hovick has been cast in one of the most strenuous roles ever written for the theatre, that of "The Madwoman of Chaillot," in the comedy hit of the same name which the Community Theatre will present at the Circle Theatre in Carmel starting tomorrow. The comic fantasy will be played for seven weekend performances through June 4.

Mason Wright will be seen as the Rappicker, typical of the Madwoman's cronies from the streets of Paris.

Betty Fowlston, Ruth Marion McElroy, and Gertrude Chappell will be seen as other madwomen from other quarters of Paris who are friends of the Chaillot eccentric. They all take hilarious part in the play's tea party scene.

Symbolizing some of the world's parasites are the Prospector, the Baron, the President, and the Broker. These roles will be acted respectively by Irving Rogers, Don Minor, Clancy VanHorn, and Bill Barrows.

Marcia Rider as a tender-hearted waitress, and Beau Stark as a youth who tries to escape from a "jam" by suicide, provide a romantic note to the play.

Frederick Rider will attend to staging of the presentation. Call 624-2669 for reservations.

Phyllis Jersey's "A World of Parties" (Charles E. Tuttle publishers) as their copy to translate old-world involved recipes into accelerated modern dishes with that Spanish accent still intact.

GUEST MINISTER AT COMMUNITY CHURCH

"Change, Progress and the Passage of Time" will be the subject of an address by Ernest Crosby, guest minister at the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula, on Sunday at 11 a.m. Of New England heritage both in family and church relationships, Mr. Crosby is the author of "Reformation and the Reformers."

Mr. Crosby, a successful business executive, organized and was first chairman of the executive council of the National Association of Congregational Christian Churches. He divides his time between his homes in Carmel and Blue Hill, Maine.

The Reverend Burkert Cree, Community Church minister, will return to the pulpit next week. He is accompanying a busload of youth from the church to Santa Ana, where they will be guests of the Congregational Church Youth and will visit Disneyland.

'SYMPHONY FOR FUN' TOMORROW NIGHT

"Symphony for Fun," annual public concert of the Monterey Peninsula College Concert Band, will be staged tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall.

Originally announced as admission free, the concert will carry a ticket charge of $1 for adults, 50 cents for students and the military. The change was made, according to band director Henry Smith, "in an attempt to reimburse the student body, which has sponsored our activities and off-campus trips all year."

ADOBE TOUR CHAIRMAN

Seated, above, at the piano in the Casa Serrano is Mrs. George Fletcher, general chairman of the 1966 Adobe Tour to benefit the Monterey History and Art Association. The event, entitled "Under Three Flags," will be held on April 30 and will include a Paisano Picnic in Monterey's Memory Garden where whole lambs will be barbecued.

Mrs. Fletcher was photographed wearing an actual gown of the early 1800s. It is typical of the dresses worn by Mexican and Spanish ladies in Monterey during this period.

Coffee will be served from 10 a.m. until noon in the garden of Casa Serrano with Mexican music provided by Manuel Campos. Mrs. Charles Bentley will be hostess at this historic adobe during the morning. From 2-6 p.m., tea will be served with Mrs. C. W. Fisher as hostess. Mrs. John Marble will decorate the rooms using Mrs. Robert Stanton's 1812 Waterford crystal punch bowl on the tea table.

Antique crystal, china and glass will be featured in table settings at ten other adobes on the tour.

Open for the first time will be the Gutierrez Adobe and its garden with a 130-year-old pear tree. Rare Wedgwood china will be used here in a luncheon table setting.

Mrs. William Durney's hand-painted English Derby dessert set, circa 1820, will be shown in the grand sala of the Stevenson House. Also on display will be a water pitcher and glasses owned by Jerry Fellows.

At the House of Four Winds, a complete cut glass dinner service which belonged to Mrs. Henry Ragsdale's grandmother will be featured in a surprise setting.

Another surprise table setting will be arranged by Mrs. Robert Ferguson, wife of the commanding general of Fort Ord, at the Old Whaling Station.

The famous Blue Dishes belonging to Mrs. William O'Donnell will be displayed in her residence, Casa Soberanes. The furnishings in the drawing room of this adobe were used as an example of the Early American period of Monterey for the Chicago Art Museum's collection of miniature rooms.

At Casa Abrego, Mrs. Horace Dormody will arrange a luncheon table. The garden of this adobe has a magnolia tree planted in 1835.

Mrs. Harry Hunt and Mrs. Paul Winslow will decorate a table at Larkin House using Venetian crystal owned by the late Mrs. Alice Toumin, former owner of the dwelling and a descendant of Thomas Larkin, American consul in Monterey in 1835.

Hostesses at the First Federal Court will be members of the Hudson family, Mrs. L. J. Hudson, Mrs. Allan Hudson, Mrs. Thomson Hudson, Mrs. John Hudson and Mrs. David Hudson. The latter is bringing from Kentfield her antique thumbnail ruby glass to display in a table setting. An antique clock collection will also be shown. This building houses the law offices of Supervisor Thomson Hudson.

The owner of Gordon House, Mrs. Francis Palms, will be hostess at this home on the tour. She will be assisted by Mrs. Charles O'Gara, whose mother once owned the house, also Mrs. Folsom Nielson, Mrs. Kenneth Ehrman and Mrs. John Gratiot. China which belonged to Mrs. Palms' grandfather, the Honorable James Spencer Ewing, when he was U.S. Ambassador to Belgium, will be used in the red and gold table setting here. Champagne and wine glasses in red with gold edges will carry out the color scheme.

A wedding table will be featured at Casa Amesti. On an heirloom lace tablecloth, loaned by Mrs. Donn Mann, will be set an antique cut glass punch bowl and glasses, of the era before handles were employed, which belonged to Mrs. Robert McKeever's grandmother, also a silver tray used by Mrs. Joseph Michela when her husband was in the diplomatic service in Russia.

A spectacular wedding cake will be placed on this table accompanied by antique cake plates, silver and Baccarat glasses owned by the grandmother of H. Westinghouse Fletcher. Mrs. Pillsbury Pringle is contributing an antique silver cake knife. Mrs. Al Fry (Nell Curry) is assisting with the general decor for this adobe which is the home of the old Capital Club. Wives of club members will act as hostesses.

The former home of Governor Alvarado, now owned by Mrs. Wesley Heard, will be open on the tour. The dwelling has a magnificent garden, beautiful furnishings and authentic atmosphere.

Tickets for the Adobe Tour ($3.50) may be obtained now at Casa Serrano, 412 Pacific Street, Monterey, from noon till 3 p.m., also at any of the adobes on the day of the tour. Tickets for the Paisano Picnic will be $1.50 for tour ticket holders, otherwise, $2.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE SPEAKS IN SANTA CRUZ

Gerald V. Barron, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 12th Congressional District addressed students at Santa Cruz High School on domestic and foreign problems on Tuesday. The group was comprised of advanced students in government who were encouraged by Mr. Barron, at the conclusion of his speech, to ask questions. For the better part of an hour, he fielded questions on a wide variety of topics tossed to him by the enthusiastic young people.

"It was one of the most rewarding experiences of my campaign," Mr. Barron remarked at the conclusion of the meeting.

Following his early morning speech at the school, Mr. Barron met with the Santa Cruz Kiwanis Club at a noon luncheon meeting.

CTA Urges Reduction In Local Tax Rates

A reduction of the local property tax rate averaging 25 percent statewide was urged last weekend by the State Council of Education, the 430-member governing body of the California Teachers Association (CTA).

The resultant loss in revenue to the state's school districts would be replaced by income derived from a proposed increase of one cent in the state sales tax.

By increasing the sales tax, the council said, California would be able to accomplish "long-overdue" relief for the state's "hard-pressed" local property taxpayer who has been forced in recent years to carry a larger and larger share of school costs.

The new CTA position was established when the Council voted overwhelmingly to support Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh's bill which is now before the State

Adoption Society Elects Officers

The Monterey Branch Council of Childrens Home Society entertained members of the San Jose district board at a dinner meeting at Mark Thomas Inn on Friday, when the council also elected officers for the ensuing year.

Elected were William Kennedy of Monterey, chairman, Mrs. Leonard Cohen of Carmel, vice chairman, and Mrs. Arnold Breschini of Salinas, secretary. Reelected to the council for three-year terms were Mr. Kennedy, Mrs. Breschini, Dr. Emil Genetti of Monterey, Mrs. Mark Thomas of Carmel Valley, Mrs. Norman Andreson of Salinas and Miss Helen Heavey of Carmel.

Maurice Mandell of Carmel, outgoing chairman, thanked members of the council for their effective work during the past year in helping place babies in local homes. There are many more babies available for adoption, according to Mrs. Helen Robinson, supervisor in charge of the local office at 444 Pearl Street, Monterey, and inquiries from couples interested in adoption are welcome. Particularly, Mrs. Robinson states, there is a need for couples who could accept a baby of mixed racial heritage.

Observed Instruction Program

Mrs. Anna Kohner, principal of Carmelo School, was one of three Monterey County elementary educators who visited the Oakleaf Elementary School in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, this week to observe a nationally-known program called Individually Prescribed Instruction. The program has been developed by the Learning and Research Development Center of the University of Pittsburgh.

The project, from kindergarten through grade six, provides individualized programs of learning for each pupil without regard to his grade level, placing and allowing each pupil to progress on the basis of his own performance in a given subject.

Carmelo School was invited to participate in the Project Edinn exemplary schools program because it has already made a start toward individualized instruction and team teaching. Mrs. Kohner is also principal of Carmel Woods School.

Develop UCSC Program

Assisting in the development of the University of California at Santa Cruz doctoral program in biology have been Dr. Cornelis van Niel of Carmel and Dr. Lawrence Blinks of Jacks Peak, both scientists associated with Stanford University's Hopkins Marine Station in Pacific Grove for many years. UCSC now has a doctoral program in astronomy also. Both programs will be offered this Fall.

Peninsula BPWC Plans Conference

Some 200 members of Business and Professional Women's Clubs are expected to attend the annual district spring conference to be held this year at the Mark Thomas Inn April 23-24. Mrs. Lester Louden, general chairman for the event, will be assisted by Miss Gertrude Ernst, co-chairman, and Monterey Mayor Minnie Coyle, programming chairman.

The five Peninsula clubs will serve as hostesses. From the Carmel club, Pat Lane will man the information desk; Mrs. Malcolm Setzer will serve as chairman for props, kits and hostesses; and Mrs. Laurabelle Nichols, pages.

The program will begin with a brunch at 11 a.m. April 23, followed by a general session for election of officers. Formal installation of elected officers will take place at 7:30 p.m.

On April 24, there will be a continental breakfast at 7:30 a.m., with workshops following for new officers to discuss their activities for the year ahead. The noon luncheon speaker will be Zoe Matthews, first vice president of the California Federation of BPWC.

City Treasurer Resigns

On Tuesday, City Treasurer Sam Coleman tendered his resignation to the city council in a letter which stated that his health no longer permitted him to serve in the position which he has filled since July 9, 1958.

The city council must now appoint a successor to Mr. Coleman, or failing to take this action, call a special election.

Mr. Coleman has been a Carmel resident since 1943 when he was appointed assistant manager of the Monterey County Trust and Savings Bank which became affiliated with American Trust Company, then later with Wells Fargo Bank. He retired from his 39-year banking career in 1956.

Born in Canada, Mr. Coleman has lived most of his life in Monterey County. He was educated in Salinas public schools and joined the staff of the Monterey County Trust and Savings Bank in King City in 1917. At the outbreak of World War I, he enlisted in the U.S. Army and served for a year then returned to the King City bank. He rose to be assistant manager and assistant cashier in that office, also served as city treasurer for King City for 22 years, before coming to Carmel. He was last elected to the Carmel city treasurer position two years ago.

Awarded Army Commendation

Major John L. Schick, son of Brigadier Lawrence E. Schick (USA ret) and Mrs. Schick of Carmel, was awarded the Army Commendation Medal at Fort Knox, Kentucky, on March 17. He received the award for meritorious service during his last assignment as executive officer of the 2d Battalion, 17th Infantry, Camp Kaisers, Korea.

The major, a 1955 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, and his wife, Ellen, visit Carmel whenever the opportunity arises. Mrs. Schick and the couple's children, Larry, Nancy and Steven, spent last summer here

City Planners Prefer Names To Numbers

Carmel planners yesterday decided they had a "natural antipathy to being numbered" and authorized Chairman Dorothy von Meier to send a letter expressing this feeling in "strong" language, to the Title Insurance and Trust Co. of Salinas which had asked the planning commission to express an opinion on having Monterey County subdivisions numbered, instead of named, for identification purposes.

Commissioners considered a variance, requested by Marion J. Kreger, for a carport six feet from the city property line, instead of the required 15 feet, on the east side of Junipero between Eleventh and Twelfth Streets. Action will be taken next week. Also next Wednesday afternoon, planners will act on the request of John Zack to create one building site out of two half-lots on the east side of Carpenter between Eleventh and Twelfth.

Approved was Wendell Redding's request to incorporate two and one-half lots into two legal building sites. This property is on Santa Fe between Ocean and Mountain View. Commissioner Dorothea Roberts voted against this action.

Land use and zoning matters discussed were zoning for Sunset Center and control of temporary overnight lodging signs in the commercial and residence zones. Two planning commissioners to work with Sunset Commissioners Ted Fehring and Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher on the Sunset matter will be named next week. The signs will be taken up again at the planners' study session in May.

A letter from George R. Walker, attorney for Mrs. P. C. Lee, informed commissioners that the box provided for landscaping in front of the post office had been replanted. Difficulty of providing any planting for the Dolores Street area, now occupied by the Republican Party tent, was expressed in the letter. Mrs. Lee owns the property leased to the post office and enclosing the location of the tent and town's bulletin board.

Considered were plans for two office developments in the business district. One, proposed by John H. Gamble Associates, was for remodeling of the former Little Gem Laundromatic premises on Junipero. The other, presented by Ralph Stean, was a building on east side of Mission between Fourth and Fifth. Official approval to these developments will be given next week.

University To Honor Samuel F. B. Morse

Mr. Morse, developer of Del Monte Properties, is being honored as a leader in conservation practices on the Monterey Peninsula. A 1907 graduate of Yale University who came to California shortly afterwards, he has participated in this state in "programs of water development, cattle and farming, and railroad operation," the UCSC announcement states.

Other recipients of LL.D. degrees at the inauguration ceremonies will be Lord Murray of Newhaven, K.C.B., noted British educator; David Packard, co-founder of the Hewlett-Packard Company; James Reston, associate editor of the New York Times; and Max Thelen, president of the S. H. Cowell Foundation, an attorney and an authority in the field of public utility regulation who wrote the Public Utilities Act of California.

School Board Has Arnot's Stand On Any Tax Increase

Mr. Arnot also stated, "It is our endeavor to decrease the taxes of every tax assessing body in the county. We can't avoid added sanitary district taxes and additional taxes for fire protection. These are services we haven't had, and must have, but we will hold the line on services we have now."

"As far as any other increase in taxes, we will endeavor to take every means we can, not only to make the effort to hold the line, but to find some method of financing, other than the property tax." He suggested the re-evaluation of assessed property might accomplish this purpose.

Trustee Dr. Hilton Bialek observed that the objective of the committee suggested by Mr. Arnot would merely tell the board "this is the money we have."

Mr. Arnot answered by saying that the committee would try to show the board how to live within its money "but not to the detriment of children. We did not ask for the job but we are willing to do it," he reiterated.

Before the board decided not to form the committee to study the district's financial condition, Chester V. Lewis, a member of the audience, advised them that what was really needed was a group to undertake public relations between the board and the voters.

The defeat of the override showed that "what the schools need is a continuous group, fairly large, functioning continuously, and informing the community what goes on in the school district and its educational program," he advised.

He further stated, "I don't want the taxpayers association to take any part in the leadership of education in Carmel."

Another member of the audience, George Brown, supported the board in its override request. James Kramer and Arthur Strasburger favored allowing a study by the taxpayers association to acquaint this group with the fact that the override was necessary.

Don Harrison, also in the audience, informed the board he thought further study of the district's financial status was superfluous. He felt the board was abrogating its responsibilities by asking for advice on needed budget cuts as a result of the failure of the override.

Chairman Dr. Robert E. Newton emphasized to the audience that the board was "dismayed and surprised at the fate of the override at the polls." He stated that the proposal for a committee had been considered as an attempt to discover and understand the full meaning of the vote which indicated widespread dissatisfaction with the district's program; also to acquaint as many segments of the community with the problems the board faces in providing the general educational needs without available money.

Public Schools Week Events Begin Monday

Carmelo School will end the week with a track and field day, picnic and sidewalk art show on Saturday.

The River School Parents Club will meet Tuesday evening for reorganization and a concert by the choir and the orchestra. During the meeting, as well as every noon hour next week, children's books will be offered for sale in the cafeteria. Anticipating budget cuts, the school hopes the small profit made on the sale of each book will provide funds for the library there.

Parents are also invited to see the operation of the cafeteria, notifying the office a day beforehand if they wish to buy lunch there. The facility is now being supervised by volunteer help so that teachers may have time for conferences and lunch breaks.

Woods School is concentrating on the traditional May Day Festival, to be held May 6, and will present no special program.

At Middle School, each department will present classroom demonstrations on successive days. On Thursday at 7:30 p.m., the physical education department will show what students are doing in this field.

Carmel High School has scheduled no observance, since parents attended a back-to-school night earlier in the year.

Carmel Little League Opens On Saturday

Mother's belonging to the Little League Auxiliary will staff the snack bar from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Proceeds from this food service are used to further the Carmel Little League program. During the opening ceremonies, a lucky ticket holder will be awarded a portable television set. Donations ($1) will be available today and tomorrow outside the Carmel Rancho Safeway Store.

Citizens Form Foundation To Benefit Schools

(Continued From Page One) man, asked if foundation funds could be expended for any legal purpose the school board is authorized to assume and was assured by Mrs. Thorn that this would be the case.

In their letter, the six citizens stated the purpose of the foundation as follows:

"Support is needed to maintain the present high standards that prevail in the Carmel School District without arbitrarily imposing additional tax burdens on those particular members of our society who are unable to shoulder added taxes."

"We recommend a technique which will enable those to contribute whose consciences dictate that they must increase their support of education."

"Community interest in the schools should grow through personal participation in a program of public subscription."

OFFICERS ELECTED

New officers of the Community Hospital board of trustees are Vernon Hurd, president for a second term; Mrs. S.F.B. Morse and Dr. A. Carol McKenney, vice-presidents; Cortland T. Hill, secretary; J. O. Handley, treasurer.

Trustees chosen at the recent annual membership meeting were Arthur C. Stewart, Loren Smith, J. Arch Butts, Mrs. John Marble and Mr. Handley.

Realtors Conference On Peninsula Monday

Cavett Robert of Phoenix, Arizona, one of the nation's foremost sales management consultants, will be the featured speaker at an all-day real estate educational and sales conference to be held at the Mark Thomas Inn on Monday under the sponsorship of local real estate boards and the California Real Estate Association, announces George T. Conn, president of the Carmel Board of Realtors.

"Five of California's most successful realtors also will appear on the Monday program, Mr. Conn says.

The subjects and the speakers will be "Servicing the Listing" by John Boydston of Bakersfield; "Obtaining the Offer" by Mary Riggle of North Hollywood; "Presenting the Offer" by Chuck Crowe of Burbank; and "Selling Small Apartment Buildings" by Don Olson of Van Nuys. L. H. "Spike" Wilson of Fresno will act as moderator.

A new 20-minute sound and color motion picture on "Presenting the Offer," produced for this conference by CREA, will also be shown.

Reservations may be made through the Carmel Board of Realtors, Fifth and Dolores streets.

Mrs. McCarthy

Requiem mass was celebrated this morning in Beverly Hills for Mrs. Margaret Gilbert McCarthy, a resident of Carmel since 1956. Mrs. McCarthy died Tuesday after a lengthy illness at the home she shared here with her daughter, Mrs. Marjorie McCarthy Gless.

She was born in New York City on November 10, 1891.

A noted author of cookbooks, whose interest in the culinary arts dated back to her early youth, Mrs. McCarthy made her home in Connecticut for many years with her husband, the late Neil S. McCarthy.

In addition to her daughter, she is survived by several grandchildren.

The Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel was in charge of local arrangements.
